Will Use Triangle Flats In New CLS Production

Father Falter Receives First Lieutenant Rating

The Reverend Clement Falter, C. P.P.S., professor of French at the College, has received his commission as First Lieutenant in the United States Army and will report Tuesday, March 3, at Fort Monmouth, New Jersey, to serve as a chaplain with the Army.

Father Falter

Father Falter received notification of his commission Feb. 24. He was sworn in today (Wednesday) before Judge Moses Leopold, of Rensselaer.

Word from the Adjutant General's office, Washington, informed Father Falter that he should proceed to Fort Monmouth. It is interesting to note that several former students—Joe Cooper, Bill Kozelski, and Jack Fischer—are also located at Fort Monmouth.

Theodore B. Frank, Ph.D., is filling Father Falter's place in the department of Modern Languages.

Triangular flats, a revival of the ancient Greek Periaktoi, will provide means of fast changes for the twelve settings of the C.L.S. production of "Richard of Bordeaux."

Instead of being pivoted in the center, as was the Periaktoi, the groups of flats will be mounted on rollers that may be moved swiftly. Each flat in the right triangles will be five feet, five inches, by seven feet.

Although such a method of stage design is seldom used in the modern theatre, Father Speckbaugh has chosen it for this production because he considers it the most efficient for fast changes on the College stage.

Besides the triangles the setting will be featured by a grand drop across the back of the stage. This drop and incidentals will be lowered on the fly ropes.

With new drapes and lighting effects as planned, the sets should be as interesting as any yet seen on the Collegeville stage.

The setting for "Richard of Bordeaux" will, rather oddly, require more workers than the plot will need actors.

Raleigh Club Will Elect Officers At Next Meeting

According to Charles Hankish, president, the Raleigh club will hold its regular meeting in the club rooms next Monday night. The prime purpose of the meeting is the election of officers for the coming year.

Also at this meeting, the Club Keys will be presented to the senior members and entertainment will be provided.

Farmhand Now In Army

A local farm hand, Carl Shank, went to join the ranks of the Army on Friday of last week. Carl, a native of Pulaski, Ind., has been working on the farm here for the last three years. He spent the years of '35 and '36 in college at St. Joseph's and also played on the basketball team.

CMC Will Inaugurate Lectures, Movies In Interest Of Morale

Stressing the significance of the student's grasping the immensity and importance of the present crisis, the Rev. Rufus Esser, C.P.P.S., has suggested that Collegeville residents become interested in defense work and its various ramifications.

Father Esser, who is chairman of the defense committee here on the campus, pointed out that various volumes in the library are offered to acquaint the student with the international situation and the institutions that are affected by it. The organizations on the campus have been asked to cooperate in this important work.

Besides this, several lectures have been planned, and it is hoped that movies will be obtained to show to St. Joe students. The student council will confer with the committee this week to discuss this work from the student viewpoint.

Attendance at lenten devotions, especially the Wednesday night sermons, was stressed.

Series Of Sermons By Father Dirksen In College Chapel

With a talk on Lent and the special need of its observance in these days of war, the V. Rev. Aloys Dirksen, C.P.P.S., President of St. Joseph's college, began his series of Lenten sermons last Wednesday night, February 18. Father Dirksen will speak in the Chapel every Wednesday night immediately after supper.

Topics on which Father Dirksen will speak in his forthcoming talks are: "The Holy Eucharist and the Student," "The Student and the Real Presence," "The Student and Holy Mass," "The Student and Holy Communion," and "The Student and the Mystical Body."

When making the announcement of his future talks, Father Dirksen said, "I felt that in these days, when Lent should have so much more meaning to Catholics, I myself should speak to the students to try to impress upon them the need of keeping Lent well. In choosing topics I had in mind presenting to the students the very heart of Catholic life, the Holy Eucharist."

Camera Club Members Hear Fr. Ley On Newspaper Art

"Newspaper Photography" was the subject of the talk given by Father Sylvester Ley at the Camera club meeting last evening. The publications adviser covered the field in a very comprehensive manner.

Paul Birkmeier was elected by the members to take the position of vice-president, vacated by senior Ed O'Reilly.

The club initiated a new custom, when the members held a round-table discussion. Discussions are to play a major role in future meetings.

President George Lundy gave a brief description of the Newspaper Syndicate. At future meetings the members will take their turn at giving short talks on some phase of photography.

Plans are in the making for the members to visit the Photo Shop with the club's moderator, Father Baechle, as the guide. A club paper is the next project that the members plan on completing.

Administration Hall Parlors Are Scene Of Colorful Displays

At a Sanguinist Club meeting held Monday evening in Science Hall plans were completed for the club's third annual Catholic Press Exhibit, which will be displayed in the parlors in the Administration Building from February 28 to March 1.

A tree depicting Catholic literature will form the background and central theme of the main parlor, with pertinent books pertaining to the tree forming the foreground. Also in the parlor will be displayed a selection of sixteenth and seventeenth century books, a Sheed and Ward exhibit through the courtesy of the college library, a Bruce Publishing Co. exhibit, obtained from the Dwenger Mission Unit, an exhibit of the Catechetical Guild of St. Paul, Minn., and other Catholic pamphlets.

In the other parlor a set of from fifty to sixty pictures of Saints prominent in education, entitled "Saints in Action" will be featured; likewise diocesan papers, Catholic college magazines and papers, periodicals, and bibliography of Catholic authors will be shown.

Opens Friday at Noon

The exhibit, which will commemorate the National Catholic Press month, will open at noon on Friday, Feb. 28. Reading tables will be placed in both parlors for the visitors' disposal.

Directors of the display, the Rev. Thomas H. Grotenrath, C.P.P.S., club moderator, and Jack Ford, president of the Catholic Action group, selected three committees to aid them. In charge of parlor one are Edward Harkenrider, Louis Dell, and Charles Sudrovech. Edward Litot, Vincent Giese and Clem Hill will take care of parlor two. In charge of the publicity are Ben Nance, Dick Schreiber, and Leonard Herriges.

BULLETIN

There will be a student trip to Valparaiso, Indiana Friday, March 6, when the Puma five meet Valpo U.

Sanguinist Press Committee

President Jack Ford, Charles Sudrovech, Leonard Herriges, and Clem Hill, of the Sanguinist Club, plan for their press exhibit this weekend.

THE PURPOSE OF COLLEGE EDUCATION

Broadly speaking, it is the purpose of a college education to educate the mind in things intellectual, the soul in things spiritual, and mold the body into a sound physical being. These things a college education should do. They are the purposes in which the college itself takes the lead and the initiative.

There is, however, another purpose in college education, a purpose that is equally as important. That purpose comes about as a result of men living in close contact with each other for four years. In a certain sense, this final purpose amounts to a philosophy of life, an understanding of one's fellow student, and the formulation of a way of living that tends toward harmony between all students.

If a man went through four years of college and obtained nothing but an understanding of his fellow students he would have accomplished a great deal that would benefit him tremendously in the years to come. College is the perfect place to realize one's own shortcomings, to realize the shortcomings of others and to make allowances for them. College is a place for polishing off rough edges.

There are times during the four years in college when others have innocent fun at the expense of one particular individual. Like the many tests in life, the real test comes in just such a situation. Everyone is capable of having fun when someone else is the subject. But only when a person is able to have fun when he is the subject can we say that he has passed the test successfully. If he huffs and puffs and grows angry, he has failed the test. If he takes it in the spirit of fun and laughs it off, he has passed the test. Only when he has passed has he started to acquire that one, all-important purpose of a college education: An understanding of the ways of men.

The National Federation of Catholic College Students has designated Friday, March 6, as Catholic college students' National Prayer Day. That date, incidentally, is the first Friday of the month. The N.F.C.C.S. suggests that, in addition to Mass and Communion, all students make at least one visit to the Chapel during the day to pray for peace. It is suggested that students recite the Hail Mary on their way to and from classes and that they make a conscious effort to say a number of aspirations for peace. The program, briefly, is to storm heaven with petition, for only from there will come the lasting peace.

MOTION PICTURE SHORT SUBJECTS are receiving more attention than was formerly accorded them. Directors seem to have discovered finally that there is a wealth of material for good short selections in the short stories of our past and present authors.

Recently, the local theatres have played short subjects which trace their origin back to Edgar Allen Poe and the late Ring Lardner.

Perhaps, as time goes on, the field of short story literature will be more frequently used for short subjects. There is, I think, as much—if not more—fine craftsmanship in the good short as in a two-hour feature.

RITZ: Friday and Saturday—Best shots and sequences from all three of the previous African pictorial features by Frank Buck are combined in a new production that is called "Jungle Cavalcade." Legion Rating: A-1.

Before he died two years ago, Frank Buck was the best known of modern jungle explorers. With his wife, Osa, he made numerous treks through the jungles where he hunted wild animals with a camera instead of a gun.

RITZ: Sunday, Monday, Tuesday—There was a sports writer and a lady columnist who regarded each other with perfect disdain. They had a belligerent meeting. And, as so often happens, they proceeded to fall in love and were married. Which is one way of doing it. "Woman of the Year," starring Katherine Hepburn and Spencer Tracy. Legion Rating: A-2.

Ring Lardner, Jr., and Mike Kanin sat down to spin out this entertaining yarn and Hepburn bullied MGM to pay $100,000 for it. It's sure-fire material for a good afternoon.

PALACE: Sunday, Monday, Tuesday—The Legion Rating puts "Bahama Passage" in the B slot and your own reviewer places it slightly lower as good entertainment. For all its technicolor, Madeleine Carroll, and Sterling Hayden, this is a good picture to avoid if you have anything else to do.

RITZ: Wednesday and Thursday—"International Lady," with George Brent and Ilona Massey, is a good stock story on spy and counter spy. You should like this tale of a beautiful woman spy who sends her messages out on a secret musical code until George Brent comes along. Legion Rating: A-1.

Magazines Up For Discussion Again By Student Readers

By John Ford

Reading has been stressed for the past several weeks in this column. Among the reasons for this has been the fact that this is Catholic Press Month. Another reason, perhaps a more important one, lies in the hope that reading of a high caliber will be persued more extensively by our readers.

To offer a fitting climax, STUFF this week asked Collegeville residents what magazines most stimulated their mental faculties, and what magazine most increases their knowledge of a field that they hope to enter some time in the future.

Bob Moran, a sophomore from Rock Island, Ill., who will seek a degree in law said: "I like News-week magazine because it keeps me posted with national and international policies and politics. It helps me keep abreast with these changing times. That is important for me."

Fortune magazine is selected by a freshman who intends to major in accounting. Hugh Davy, of Frankfort, Ind., nominated this periodical for students studying business for the simple reason that it is a business magazine. But, beyond that, it is thorough, it is well-written, and it is truthful.

Don Seufert, another freshman, intends to follow Liberal Arts. From Ferdinand, Ind., Don, chose Harper's as his favorite for educational purposes. "Well-informed writers who know their subjects thoroughly make this magazine a top-notch."

A senior, Mauri Gutgsell, Physical Ed. major, likes the popular Reader's Digest because it covers a very broad field and imparts various types of information.

Going to a rather technical volume, Bill Gay, from Youngstown, Ohio, picked the Architectural Journal. Bill is a senior here at St. Joe.

Another senior, George Lundy, from Chicago, also selects a magazine that is not common. George is majoring in Philosophy, so perhaps that accounts for the fact that he likes Thought and the Philosopher's Monthly Bulletins.

Senior Sketches

By John Feicht

If you are looking for an artist see George Lundy. This senior began his artistic work when he was attending New Trier high school in Winnetka, Illinois. His first job was that of artist for the school's year-book and literary magazine. In his freshman year at St. Bede college, he was a cartoonist and columnist for the school paper and did all the art work for the school catalogue.

At St. Joe, George has been both a cartoonist and columnist for STUFF for the last two years. He is doing the art work for Measure this year. Last year George was the photographer for Phase; this year he is doing some of the art work for the publication. Daze (remember, that was the humor magazine) listed Lundy as co-editor and cartoonist. Just to keep in practice, George has worked for the past two summers at Acme News-pictures as photographer, retoucher, and telephone operator.

George is interested in other things besides art. In high school, football and track were on his list of activities. At St. Bede it was dramatics. At St. Joseph's it has been C.L.S., Raleigh Club, Poetry Society, and Camera Club. He is president of the Camera Club this year.

Chicago is the city George calls home. He was born there, but spent the majority of his years in residence in Winnetka. Now George's home is Chicago once again. However, after graduation it will be difficult to locate this Philosophy major because he plans on enlisting in the armed forces of Uncle Sam.

FINAL HOME BASKETBALL TILT FRIDAY

St. Joe Wins Over Wesleyan 60-57

Puma Prints

By Bill Carlos

The sports curriculum at St. Joe may soon be strengthened by the addition of volley ball. Athletic Director Joe Dienhart, who has made tremendous strides in building up both the intercollegiate and intramural sports programs during his three and a half years on the campus, announced that he plans to organize a volley ball league with Mauri Gutzsell as manager.

Volley ball will bring the total of sports which a St. Joe student can participate in to 15: Football, basketball, baseball, boxing, softball, pool, billiards, ping-pong, ice skating, swimming, volley ball, golf, tennis, track, and tag-football. Can you think of another?

From this group the football, basketball, boxing, baseball, golf, tennis, and track teams see action in intercollegiate competition. Softball, volley ball, tag-football, and also basketball are of an intramural nature. The pond offers ice skating in the winter and swimming in the warmer weather, and the Raleigh club sponsors pool, billiard, and ping-pong tournaments.

Great progress was made at St. Joe during 1941 in the way of new sports, with the introduction of three headliners—golf, boxing, and track.

The Puma cagers are even-steven in the Indiana conference basketball standing at present, with four victories and four losses. Earlham, Valparaiso, and Central Normal, (twice) are the Puma's conference victims, while they have dropped decisions to Wabash, Evansville and Indiana State, (twice). They hope to wind up with a winning balance in league play when they close their season against Valparaiso, there, March 6.

Although most of the 14 Catholic high school basketball teams in Indiana will join the I.H.S.A.A. next year and will vie for the big state championship with the public high schools, the Catholic tourney may continue just the same. Several Catholic high school officials suggested that the tournament, which was played at Ft. Wayne last weekend, be held in mid-season from now on as an invitational affair.

Game Is Close But Pumas Scrape Second Tilt From Opponent

St. Joe's basketball team ran into a rejuvenated Illinois Wesleyan team Tuesday night in their second encounter this season, but the Pumas emerged victorious, 60-57, on the Wesleyan floor.

Earlier in this year's campaign the St. Joe team had little trouble conquering the boys from Bloomington, Ill., 40-32. But the Illinois team was constantly threatening the Collegevillers in this contest. Both teams played fine ball and neither team ever had a large lead at any time during the game. The half ended with each team having 33 points.

The St. Joe squad hit the net for three more points in the second half than their opponent and won the game after a hard struggle. Bernie Hoffman and Mauri Gutzsell, St. Joe's scoring aces, scored 17 and 18 points, respectively. Dabrymple scored 25 points for the opponents and played brilliant defensive ball. Nobbie Walsh added 10 points to the St. Joe box score to help the Pumas to victory.

Take Chicago Teachers By Score Of 52 To 26

St. Joe's quintet celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of basketball in fine style by taking Chicago Teachers, 52-26, Saturday night in the fieldhouse.

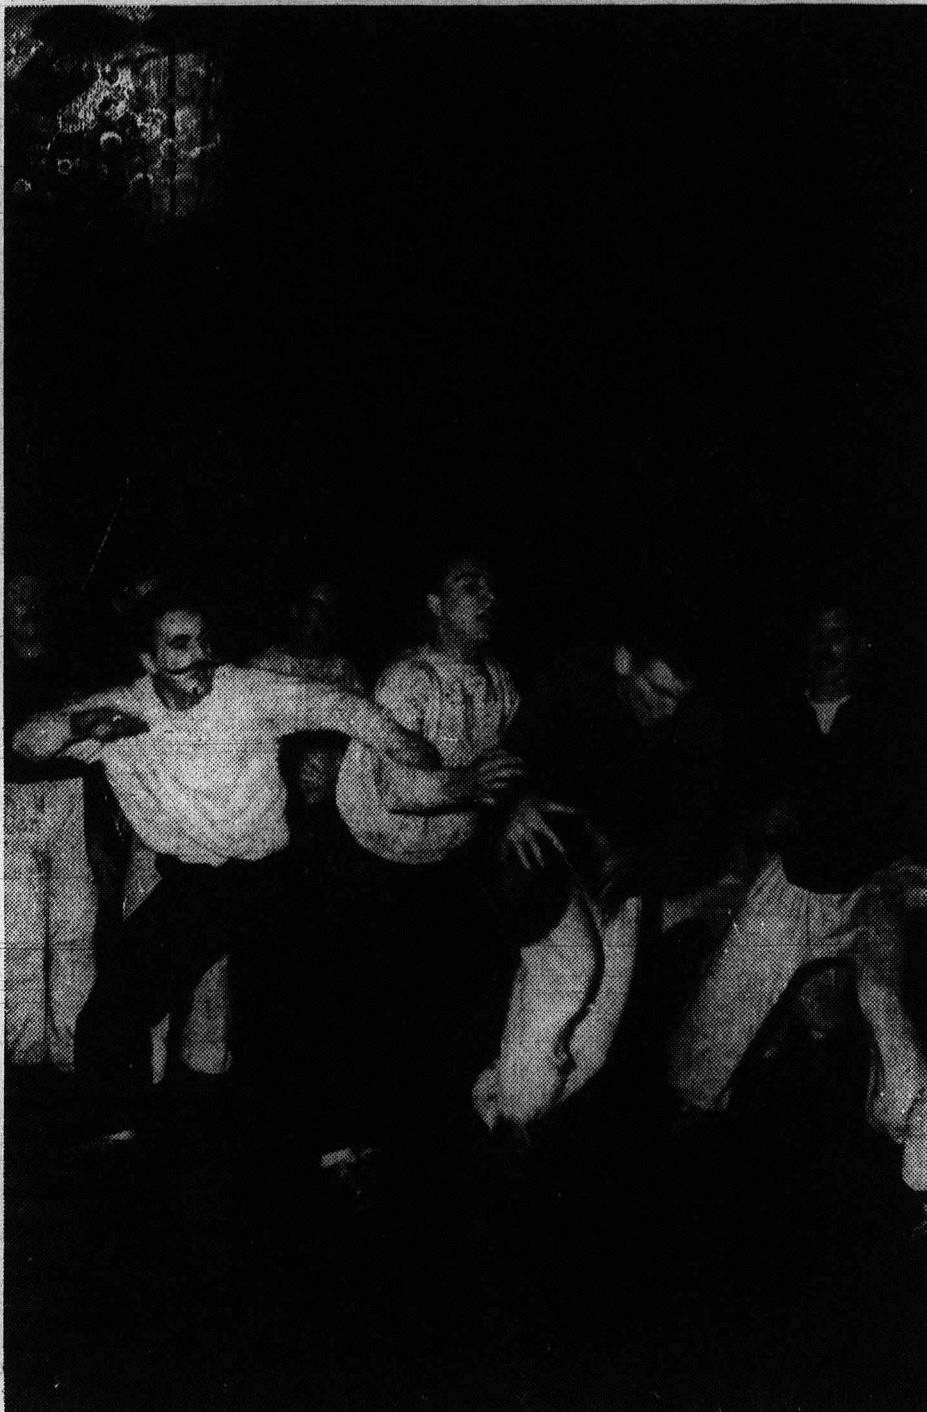

Dienhart's men took an eight-point lead in the first four minutes and coasted to victory from there. The St. Joe defense worked perfectly all evening. The Teachers were held to 6 points in the first half, while St. Joe scored 23.

Play Oldtime Game

Between the halves, a basketball game commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of that game was played. It was a re-enactment of the game as it was played when it was first invented. With nine men on each team play was more or less like indoor football. The White team conquered the Purple, 6-2, in the encounter, which was rather rough.

Re-Enact First Cage Game

Kay Kennedy, John Pepper, John Murphy, Gil Hodge, Pete Varini, and Dick Roland play basketball as it was first played fifty years ago. The game was staged between halves at the Puma-Chicago Teachers game last Saturday.

Gutzsell Plays Last Home Tilt With Loras Saturday

Mauri (Gutz) Gutzsell, veteran of four years' service, will play his last home basketball game for St. Joseph's when Loras College closes the season here Friday night.

Mauri, who hails from Jasper, Ind., a little southern Indiana city that lives and breathes basketball, took the game up while still in knee-britches. Later the scrappy little guard was a regular for three years on the Jasper high school five, which was a strong contender for the state title each year.

After graduating from high school, the Jasper star chose St. Joseph's College for the continuation of his net career. From the City of Jasper, Mauri came to the County of Jasper for his first taste of college basketball.

The years went by, and when St. Joe closes its season at Valparaiso, March 6, Mauri will have seen action in nearly one hundred ball games for the Pumas. During his four years on the squad the name Gutzsell has been in the starting lineup for all but three games.

Mauri has worn the St. Joe uniform against such top-notch teams as Great Lakes, Purdue, Toledo, Butler, Seton Hall, and St. Joseph's of Philadelphia.

10-Point Game Average

Although St. Joe's only senior is rated a great defensive player, he has done splendid work offensively; he has averaged better than 10 points a game over four seasons. Out of all the stars he has guarded, Gutzsell picks Anderson, former Stanford flash playing with Great Lakes this year, as best.

Basketball's departure will not exactly spell finis to Gutzsell's athletic career at St. Joe. This spring will find him back out there chucking them from the right-hand side for the Puma nine. This will be his fourth year on the mound for St. Joe; his record so far is 11 wins and 5 losses. At the conclusion of this coming baseball season Gutz is likely to receive his eighth straight monogram, four in basketball and four in baseball.

At the top in athletics, Mauri is far from the bottom of the list when it comes to scholastic achievements. He has maintained an average of better than 80 since he entered St. Joe.

Following his graduation this

Loras College Is Foe At Fieldhouse, Carroll And Youngstown Next

St. Joe's cage team will make their final appearance on the home floor against Loras College of Dubuque this Friday night. The current season finale will also mark the last home ball game senior Mauri Gutzsell will appear in.

Coach Vince Dowd of Loras has been having mediocre success working different combinations in the Duhawk lineups. The experimental operations are a result of a slip from their early season scoring punch.

Co-captains John McKay and Eddie Sadowski are current starting forwards. Rangy Fred Bahnig will fill the pivot hole, and Jack Joyce and Jim Farrell will probably start at the guard positions.

The Pumas are favored to win this tilt by a comfortable margin, judging from the figure facts. Dowd may come through with dangerous sophomore experimental material to upset the cart, however.

At Carroll U. Monday

Sunday will see the Pumas embarking their major road trip of the year. On Monday night they meet John Carroll University in Cleveland, and the following day, March 3, the Dienhart five will be the guests of the top-ranking Youngstown College squad.

To date John Carroll's record reads nine defeats against five wins. The Blue Streaks started their season far below expectations, but with their three last games as victories they have revived spirits. Their major setback of the season came from the Great Lakes team, which defeated them 65-40.

Face Youngstown Tuesday

The Tuesday engagement favors the Puma opponents on a basis of past records. The mill-town team boasts a veteran roster. They were one of the two teams to defeat Duquesne U. last year.

Leo Magnus, whose scoring record of over 300 points is second only to Gerber of Toledo, is the nucleus of the Youngstown offense. Magnus set a record of 44 points in one game this season.

Valparaiso will complete the Puma schedule of 25 games on Friday, March 6, in the Valpo Fieldhouse.

Sixteen Out For Track As Season Approaches

Sixteen track aspirants reported for practice Friday afternoon in the fieldhouse, to begin whipping a team in shape for the coming season.

With only a few veterans, Coach Dienhart must find material to fill the vacant spots left by last year's graduates. The boys are going to have to gain their berths by competing among themselves for each division.

As soon as weather permits, the trackmen will begin to work outside for their spots on the squad. Daily practice is now held in the fieldhouse.

Last year was the first year St. Joe ever had a track team and it met with fair success. This year Coach Dienhart hopes to make the team tougher and better, and to establish track as an important sport at Collegeville. This year's schedule is not yet complete.

May, Gutz will apply for entrance into the Navy Intelligence service. After the war he has his eye on either one of two things—professional baseball or a coaching job.

Second Semester Figures Show Enrollment Decrease

The enrollment at St. Joseph's College at the beginning of the second semester has shown a slight decrease. This decrease was expected, however, because of the possibility of students being summoned from school to report for military duty and also because of the chance of getting a job in a defense plant.

According to the latest figures from the Rev. Dr. Henry A. Lucks, C.P.P.S., Dean of Studies, forty-eight students have withdrawn from school while twenty-four have registered since September. Here are the total figures on the enrollment:

Freshmen	166
Sophomores	107
Juniors	44
Seniors	26

Total College Students 343
Academy 89

Total on Campus 432

Included in this total are sixty-three Community Students of both high school and college classification.

Of the students who have recently entered St. Joseph's, ten are from the Academy, three are returning students, and the remaining number comprises the new enrollees. The Academy has enrolled six new students since the beginning of school while twenty have withdrawn. Ten of these are now in the college.

Puma Pugs Meet Purdue There Saturday Night

St. Joseph's boxing squad will open the Purdue home schedule this Saturday evening as the Pumas meet Purdue's Golden Gloves mit team. An expected crowd of some seven thousand people are slated to be present at the exhibition in the West Lafayette Fieldhouse.

Hod Parker plans to use his seasoned material of McKenna, King, Carlos, Klapheke, and the Cavy brothers. He also has two newcomers to the squad whom he may use, namely, Runchy and Seifert.

Purdue has not announced an opposing card as yet, but their experience in the Golden Glove classic will provide plenty of competition.

J Cafe Receives Coat Of Paint Last Weekend

The managers of the "J" Cafe set about with paint and brushes Saturday afternoon to improve the appearance of the interior of their shop.

When the Cafe opened for business again Saturday evening, patrons found the walls fresh and bright with cream-colored paint.

Intramurals

In Drexel's only game, Shine edged Sherman's team, 24-21.

Bullock, of Seifert, won over Guckien, 27-25; Guckien then won a forfeit from Kelly.

Of Noll's two games, Cooney won them both, beating Vernon, 25-18, and Kauffman, 33-27.

Gaspar Inter-Hall team won two of their three games played last week. They took Seifert, 23-21, and Xavier, 38-36, while absorbing a 62-31 lacing from Drexel. In the only other Inter-Hall game, Xavier nosed out Seifert, 22-20.

Show Navy Picture

Students of St. Joseph's college were entertained last week with an educational movie in the College Theatre, sponsored by the United States Naval Air Corps.

The film pictured the activities of Naval Air Cadets, from the time of their formal induction to their graduation as full-fledged Naval pilots. The scenes were filmed at the Naval Air Training Stations at Pensacola, Florida, and San Diego, California.

Camera Club Announces Photography Contest

The Campus Camera club is sponsoring a snapshot contest for the club members. This is the first of a series of contests that will be sponsored before the end of the semester.

Academy Drops Tilt To Indianapolis CC At Ft. Wayne Meet

The Puma Cubs playing splendid ball throughout the entire game, overwhelmed C.C. of Hammond by the score of 44-30 in the first round of the State Catholic Tourney Friday night at Fort Wayne. Capt. Brading tied the all-time Academy record for one game by garnering 22 points.

St. Joe was not able to break the ice soon enough and fell before Cathedral of Indianapolis, 24-16. Cathedral led 7-0, 11-3, and 21-12 at the periods. Both teams were off form, which made it a rather dull game. St. Joe came within three points of the Irish twice, at 13-10 and 21-18.

Freshmen Elect Officers

A meeting of the freshman class was held Wednesday, February 18, at which the vacancies of three offices were filled.

New officials elected to serve for the remaining semester are: Vincent Giese, vice-president; Ambrose Martel, secretary, and Eugene Shaw, treasurer.

Henry Kauffman was moved up to the presidency, as he was the only officer, by the first election, remaining in school.

The Academy Corner

By Wehrle and McElroy

This past week-end saw an almost complete evacuation of the Academy. While most of the students accompanied the team to Ft. Wayne to lend their verbal support in the tournament, quite a few of the boys took advantage of the week-end privilege by going home.

Minute Observations

Pictures were taken this week of the various classes and clubs for the coming year book. The Newman Club is anxiously awaiting Fr. Koch's selection of a play which the club will present some time in the near future. Upon asking Joe Probst if he had a good time while he was home he replied, "too good." We wonder what "too good" of a time is. For the first time in a long while two Academy sophomores represented their class on the varsity basketball team at the state tournament. Cappy Brading, who was on the starting line-up, and Whitey Kliene, who served as an invaluable substitute. Eddie Joseph going back stage last Wednesday night to talk about their mutual friend, Roxy DelRoco.

Our hats off to the basketball team, who, although they were defeated in their second game, gave a brilliant showing of themselves by defeating C. C. of Hammond and giving Cathedral of Indianapolis, who later went on to the finals, a very tough game.

Ten Years From Now

Rich Latendresse, with the aid of a tin cup, dark glasses and pencils, has finally earned his first honest dollar.

Man Mountain Meiners, the boy wonder, has pinned his forty-seventh consecutive opponent before a capacity crowd at Madison Square Garden for the only undisputed heavyweight wrestling championship of the world.

Bob McNamara has set an all-time record for hitting safely in sixty-eight consecutive games for the Cincinnati Reds. He broke the record of sixty-one, set by Johnny Wunderlich back in 1947.

The contest for the naming of the year-book will close this Thursday. All those who have not as yet handed in their prospective names for the year-book should give them either to Fr. Scharf, Fr. Gross, or Joe Wolford. Don't forget that cash prize looming ahead for the winner. This is one contest that takes no box tops or reasonable facsimiles. All that is required is to write as many names as you want on a piece of paper and hand them in to one of the above mentioned.

In an interview of Joe Wolford, Editor-In-Chief of the coming year-book, the following data was revealed. The year-book is expected to be off the press and ready for general distribution on or about May 7. About two hundred and fifty copies of it will be printed and it is expected to sell for about one dollar and a half. To quote Wolford: "The Academy year-book is due to the efforts of the entire Academy student body and to the help of the Academy faculty."
